COTTON MARKETS

Bureau Report Under Expectations, But Has Only Temporary Upward Effect.

Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 1.

Further evidence was given today to support the lides that the size of the crop is of secondary importance at the moment in the eyes of a large element of the trade, for bullish figures of 67.5 on condition as of August 25 and a weekly weather summary unmistakably bullish in its tone had only passing effect on values. They seemed merely a slight interuption to the course of prices downward, and before the session closed every option had made new low marks for the season, October in both demestic speculative centers reaching the one-day limit, dropping 200 points from the highs recorded after the coming of the reports. Tone was discouraging to bullish ideas.

At the close the list in New York was work and from 190 to 102 points off, while New Orleans finished easy and bil to 108 down.

Liverpool to make response tomorrow should open 70 to 55 points to the bad.

Liverpool to make response tomorrow should open 70 to 55 points to the bad.

The action of the Liverpool market was one of the bearish features of the day. Advices told of the coal miners having voted by a large majority for a strike, wible other advices said that the ratiroad and transpertation work ers were going to give them their help, which created basis for a very possimistic business outlook in that direction. Finals in that market for futures were unsettled and 5 to 15 points to the had. Spots were marked up 2 points, fully middling to 23d, with sales 5,000 bales, including 4,600 American.
Receipts for the day were 1,600 bales, including 700 American.

At the opening domestic markets stood but little different from the previous close, apparently because of evening up trades and some advices telling of rains in Oklahoma. October in New cTrk was at 27.15, but it dropped to 25.25, as weather for the belt as a whole was excellent and the caples were showing waskness on the labor situation. There was little sign of support, but fear of a buillish bureau report and weekly checked pressure. The condition report came 67.5, compared with 74.1 month ago, 61.4 a year ago and a 10-year average of 68.2, crop indicated being 12.785.000. The weekly summary also read unfavorable, with the result that covering by shorts sent the market up over 100 points in a few minutes. October reached 27.50, but soon buyers grew scarce and selling was renewed, the result being that the option dipped to 25.50 when trading practically stopped in that position.
Other months did not work up so fluich, see they failed to reach their sine-day limit, but all made new lows.

From the spot department came nothing to afford encouragement and business was naturally interferred with because of the wildness of the contract market. Demand is still hegible and prices are largely nominal. In Houston goutations were reduced 100 points to 27.75 for middling, with sales 3,864, while Dallas cut prices 125 points, middling to 26.75, a

The early selling carried the market about 60 to 78 points not lewer during the middle of the morning. There were railles of a few points just before midday and when the government crop report was issued, making the condition 67.5 and the indicated crop 12.783.000 bales, there was a rush of covering which sent prices 95 to 115 points above the early low level. The official crop figures were below sapectations, but after selling from 26.35c to 27.50c for October, the market piet increased pressure and broke almost as rapidly as it had advanced. Except for covering, buying on the crop figures seemed to be cheeked by bearish features in other directions. features in other directions.

OF CROP CONDITIONS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Summary of weather and crop conditions in the cotton region for the week ending Aug. 31. The week averaged generally about normal in temperature, with mostly light to moderate showers, although rains were fairly beavy to averagive in some west.

mal in temperature, with mostly light to moderate showers, although rains were fairly heavy to excessive in some west-torn districts. The sunshine was mostly deficient, and warm, sunshiny weather is needed in many localities.

In general cotton continued to deteriorate or make poor progress although progress was very good to excellent in some northeastern districts. Frogress varied from poor to satisfactory in Oklahoma, and the heavy to excessive rains injured cotton in portions of Texas, where it is making rank growth and putting on little fruit. The crop deteriorated or made poor progress in Arkansas, but progress was satisfactory in the delta counties of Mississippi though mostly poor in other pertions. The crop deteriorated in many localities in Louislana, it made fairly satisfactory progress in Northern Alabama, but elsewhere mostly unsatisfactory. Cotton improved somewhat in Georgia but its condition continues rather poor and fruiting is unsatisfactory. Condition and progress were average in the Piedmont district of South Carolina and the crop made mostly satisfactory advances in North Carolina except in the southeast portion.

Weevils continued numerous and did extensive damage in many localities. Report by states:
Texas-Frequent moderate to excessive showers North and East, with light rain or none Southwest and South. Texas cotton injured by heavy rains, rank growth, little fruit, bolls opening slowly, weevil increasing, progress ranged from satisfactory in Southwest and South to deterioration. In North and East. Condition poor to good in North and East. Condition poor to good in North and East and good to excellent in Southwest.

Oklahoma—Not received.
Georgia—More abundant sunshine favorable causing improvement, but soil still too wet in many sections. Cotton improved slightly but general condition rather poor, weevil attacking top crop, opening more rapidly and picking becoming general. Progress and condition satisfactory in some sections, especially in North, elsewhere suffering from recent rains cool nights first part of week, weavil general and doing extensive damage in South and Central considerable boll rot and shedding in South.

Mississippi—Sunshine fairly adequate, week weevil general and doing extent or other to doing the results of the results and she stock as and she stock as a sto

New York — Yarn values have been affected by the break in cotton and the outlook is very uncertain, as there has not been any material increase in business. Further weakness developed in the Philadelphia cotton yarn market yesterday with Southern yarns again taking the lead in the declines. A pessimistic view is taken of new buying, certainly so far as the near future is concerned.—Pearsall's Bureau.

New Orleans.—The census bureau an-is concerned.—Pearsall's Bureau.

New Orleans.—The census bureau announces that the first ginning report of the season, cargying the crop down to the first of September, will be issued next Wednesday. Last year ginning to Sept. I amounted to 142,825 bales and two years ago to 1,038,078. Last year's ginning was the smallest on record for the first ginning period.—S. & G.

New York.—The improved cotton grop. the first ginning period.—S. & G.

New York.—The improved cotton crop conditions give manufacturers of goods a further cause for holding off naming prices for long contracts. While they are going to mark off a loss on their cotton they have in hand, they hope to strike a good average before they are forced to buy from the new crop. It is stated that Southern mahufacturers have become very bearish on cotton in the past two weeks. Curtailment of production is increasing there. The Eastern mills are cutting off production as fast as they can give a good excuse for closing the mills. The price contraction in some yarns amounted to 30 per cent in less than three months.—Journal of Commerce.
